CHRISTIAN SCIENCE
"He that covereth his sins shall not prosper; but whose confesseth and forsaketh them shall have mercy." This maxim from Proverbs constitutes the Golden Text in the Lesson-Sermon on "Everlasting Punishment" Sunday, in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass. Among the Bible texts in the Lesson-Sermon will be the following verses from Proverbs: "The righteousness of the perfect shall direct his way; but the wicked shall fall by his own wickedness. As righteousness tendeth to life: so he that pursueth evil pursueth it to his own death. He that diligently seeketh good procureth favor; but he that seeketh mischief, it shall come unto him. The wicked is snared by the transgression of his lips; but the just shall come out of trouble."
A correlative passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, includes the following statements: "What a pitiful sight is malice, finding pleasure in revenge! Evil is sometimes a man's highest conception of right, until his grasp on good grows stronger. Then he loses pleasure in wickedness, and it becomes his torment. The way to escape the misery of sin is to cease sinning."

STEWARDSHIP DAY SERVICE PLANNED
Christian Church to Have Fine Program Sunday
Next Sunday, November 2, is being promoted as "Stewardship Day" in the Torrance Christian church, located on Engracia near Arlington.
"Special plans are being worked out for the observance of the day," said Mr. Elder, pastor of the church. "Our stewardship is the measure of the genuineness of our desire to give ourselves to Christ. Such a day should leave an indelible impression on the church." The pastor is expecting every member of every family of his church to cooperate. The service as planned, will begin promptly at 10:30 a. m.

As usual, Mrs. Spehger and Miss Engle are busy designing new dresses. Mrs. Olney has a new dress made from an old dress, and Mrs. Durfee specializes in millinery. As twenty-two ladies are enrolled in the class it is impossible to mention all names. Tonight, October 30, will be a "New Idea Night."

preliminary work and will be ready to urge a dismissal when the case comes up.
"It seems quite probable that the case will have to be submitted by typewritten briefs because of the fact that the issues involved are practically all questions of law," Brines said today. "There are very few questions of fact because the city will probably admit most all statements of fact made in the complaint and the principal questions will be of law testing the constitutionality of the Improvement Act of 1927 under which the election was held."
Dilling has succeeded in stopping all work on the proposed $400,000 public water system by the suit, because of the court's enjoinder of the city on the project until the matter is settled in court. The plaintiff declared in his bill of complaint that the city by acting under the 1927 Improvement Act violated the provisions of the Fourteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution by taking property without due process of law and without compensation.

Pastor to Show Church's Power
Sunday Evening Message To Be of Interest to All
"Acquaintance with God" will be the subject of Rev. R. A. Young's sermon Sunday night at the First Methodist Episcopal church. This topic should meet the approval of Robert Quillen, noted newspaper writer, who recently blasted the weakness of present day churches. Quillen wrote:
"The influence of the church wasn't lost, it was thrown away. The house of prayer has been made a den of thieves, at least it has been prostituted to serve causes that have no more connection with religion than dividends have with righteousness. A world in search of bread for its hungry soul is turned away empty... the pulpit, much of it seems to have lost sight of the simple and fundamental fact that people go to church in quest for religion. It isn't entertainment they want. They can find better in a theater. The church no longer offers them religion, but prudish, prissy and effeminate moralism instead of a manly, soul-satisfying religion that demands and gives strength and courage that will overcome the world."
Rev. Young's message Sunday evening will show the contrast between Quillen's ideas and the forceful Torrance pastor's spiritual talks.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE
"He that covereth his sins shall not prosper; but whose confesseth and forsaketh them shall have mercy." This maxim from Proverbs constitutes the Golden Text in the Lesson-Sermon on "Everlasting Punishment" Sunday, in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass. Among the Bible texts in the Lesson-Sermon will be the following verses from Proverbs: "The righteousness of the perfect shall direct his way; but the wicked shall fall by his own wickedness. As righteousness tendeth to life: so he that pursueth evil pursueth it to his own death. He that diligently seeketh good procureth favor; but he that seeketh mischief, it shall come unto him. The wicked is snared by the transgression of his lips; but the just shall come out of trouble."
A correlative passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, includes the following statements: "What a pitiful sight is malice, finding pleasure in revenge! Evil is sometimes a man's highest conception of right, until his grasp on good grows stronger. Then he loses pleasure in wickedness, and it becomes his torment. The way to escape the misery of sin is to cease sinning."

STEWARDSHIP DAY SERVICE PLANNED
Christian Church to Have Fine Program Sunday
Next Sunday, November 2, is being promoted as "Stewardship Day" in the Torrance Christian church, located on Engracia near Arlington.
"Special plans are being worked out for the observance of the day," said Mr. Elder, pastor of the church. "Our stewardship is the measure of the genuineness of our desire to give ourselves to Christ. Such a day should leave an indelible impression on the church." The pastor is expecting every member of every family of his church to cooperate. The service as planned, will begin promptly at 10:30 a. m.

DRESSMAKERS BUSY AT EVENING SCHOOL HERE
The class in dressmaking at the Torrance evening high school has finished its lessons in pattern making and the "muslin block." Now it is busy with individual work. Mrs. Geo. Clark and Mrs. Cora King are each making a black broadcloth coat with fur trimming. Mrs. King is keenly interested in the class, as she comes after having worked with ready-to-wear during the day in Los Angeles.
As usual, Mrs. Spehger and Miss Engle are busy designing new dresses. Mrs. Olney has a new dress made from an old dress, and Mrs. Durfee specializes in millinery. As twenty-two ladies are enrolled in the class it is impossible to mention all names. Tonight, October 30, will be a "New Idea Night."

SUPPERS POSTPONED
It is announced that the Monday evening suppers held by the Fishermen club at the Guild hall, corner of Marcelina and Arlington avenues, have been discontinued temporarily. The club will meet as usual at 7 o'clock Monday evenings at the hall.

City to Ask For Dismissal of Case

preliminary work and will be ready to urge a dismissal when the case comes up.
"It seems quite probable that the case will have to be submitted by typewritten briefs because of the fact that the issues involved are practically all questions of law," Brines said today. "There are very few questions of fact because the city will probably admit most all statements of fact made in the complaint and the principal questions will be of law testing the constitutionality of the Improvement Act of 1927 under which the election was held."
Dilling has succeeded in stopping all work on the proposed $400,000 public water system by the suit, because of the court's enjoinder of the city on the project until the matter is settled in court. The plaintiff declared in his bill of complaint that the city by acting under the 1927 Improvement Act violated the provisions of the Fourteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution by taking property without due process of law and without compensation.

Pastor to Show Church's Power
Sunday Evening Message To Be of Interest to All
"Acquaintance with God" will be the subject of Rev. R. A. Young's sermon Sunday night at the First Methodist Episcopal church. This topic should meet the approval of Robert Quillen, noted newspaper writer, who recently blasted the weakness of present day churches. Quillen wrote:
"The influence of the church wasn't lost, it was thrown away. The house of prayer has been made a den of thieves, at least it has been prostituted to serve causes that have no more connection with religion than dividends have with righteousness. A world in search of bread for its hungry soul is turned away empty... the pulpit, much of it seems to have lost sight of the simple and fundamental fact that people go to church in quest for religion. It isn't entertainment they want. They can find better in a theater. The church no longer offers them religion, but prudish, prissy and effeminate moralism instead of a manly, soul-satisfying religion that demands and gives strength and courage that will overcome the world."
Rev. Young's message Sunday evening will show the contrast between Quillen's ideas and the forceful Torrance pastor's spiritual talks.
